

Annacler Harris-Blevin M.S.

Annacler Harris-Blevin is a product manager with New Jersey Innovation Institute (NJII). She has experience in quality reporting for federal, state, and commercial value-based programs.

Ms. Harris-Blevin managed NJII's Physician Quality Reporting System and Merit-based Incentive Payment System Registry for over six years, overseeing Center for Medicare & Medicaid Services compliance and client support of over 10,000 clinicians nationwide. She now provides subject matter expertise to NJII's Product Development team as Product Manager, helping to design the next generation of solutions to facilitate clients' success in value-based contracts. She has also worked as a HIPAA Privacy Officer with NJII.

Ms. Harris-Blevin received her Master's from the New Jersey Institute of Technology. She is also pursuing her PhD in Industrial Engineering with a focus in value-based healthcare reimbursement models.