Carla Smith is Executive Vice President of the Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS). At HIMSS, Smith leverages her thought leadership and extensive experience in nonprofit management, to achieve HIMSS's mission and maintain its financial health.

Ms. Smith has 30 years of experience in the information and technology field, two-thirds of it focused on healthcare where she champions transformational innovations in the health sector. Smith also holds an appointment to Centers for Medicare and Medicaid's Outreach and Education Federal Advisory Committee, chairs the Advisory Board of the Global Center for Health Innovation, serves as an advisor to the University of Michigan's Health Informatics and Learning Health System programs, and is a publicly-elected official for the Village of Barton Hills, Michigan.

Before HIMSS, Ms. Smith served for seven years as the Chief Executive Officer of the Center for Healthcare Information Management. She earned a Master's degree and a Nonprofit Management Certification from Case Western Reserve University, as well as her HIMSS Fellow status.

In both 2017 and 2018, Health Data Management named Ms. Smith as one of the most influential women in health IT. In 2015, Ms. Smith received similar recognition from Fierce Healthcare.
