

Tom Leary

Tom Leary is Vice President, Government Relations, at The Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS) where he leads the organization's public policy initiatives and outreach to Congress, state legislators, and federal and state agencies. He guides a team that provides legislative and regulatory analysis and practical guidance on health IT policy development.

Prior to becoming Vice President, Mr. Leary served as the Senior Director of Federal Affairs. Leary also serves as the Executive Director of the HIMSS Foundation, the philanthropic arm of HIMSS, which offers non-partisan education and internship opportunities through the Institute for e-Health Policy; provides scholarship support to students in health IT-related fields; and free access to historical hospital health IT data through The Dorenfest Institute.

Prior to his arrival at HIMSS, Mr. Leary was a Division Manager for Science Applications International Corporation's TRICARE Division, where he was engaged in the coordination of healthcare administrative outsourcing solutions for the Military Health System.

Mr. Leary obtained his bachelor's degree in History/Political Science from Rutgers University, his master's degree in Legislative Affairs from The George Washington University. He is a Certified Association Executive (CAE) through the American Society of Association Executives, and has completed the Georgetown University Executive Leadership Certificate program.
